

Deep Lake House

Author: DJ GeriboProduct Code: 978-0-9883068-8-2Availability: In StockWeight: 6.60ozDimensions: 8.00in x 5.25in x 0.44inPrice: $15.95

Short Description

"I am old. The paint in my rooms is peeling off the walls, the wallpaper is curling at the seams. My barnboard flooring is scuffed and worn from much walking and running with hard-soled shoes."

So begins the telling of the stories of some of the guests who've stayed at Deep Lake House.

Description

Many people have made their way to Deep Lake House over the years, but only a few stand out among them - a train robber from the 1890s, an unhappily married woman from the 1920s overshadowed by a dominating mother-in-law, a talented opera singer in the 1940s who's lost her voice, a young married couple in the 1970s trying to find their way back to each other, and a few more as equally memorable.

Each uniquely fascinating story is as captivating as the next, told by the most authentic narrator, the House itself.

Details

Book Details

Author	DJ Geribo
Format	softcover
Pages	163
ISBN	978-0-9883068-8-2
Language	English

Product Gallery

FROM THE PUBLISHER

"DJ Geribo, author of The Mart and Seven Storied Houses, has come up with another gem in Deep Lake House. The House, acting as the narrator, shares vivid and detailed memories of the captivating guests who've stayed at Deep Lake House over the span of nearly a century."

Jim Fontaine, Editor
BBD Publishing

"I am old. The paint in my rooms is peeling off the walls, the wallpaper is curling at the seams. My barnboard flooring is scuffed and worn from much walking and running with hard-soled shoes."

So begins the telling of the stories of some of the guests who've stayed at Deep Lake House. Many people have made their way there over the years, but only a few stand out among them - a train robber from the 1890s, an unhappy married woman in the 1920s overshadowed by a domineering mother-in-law, a talented opera singer in the 1940s who's lost her voice, a young married couple in the 1970s trying to find their way back to each other, and a few more as equally memorable. Each uniquely fascinating story is as captivating as the next, told by the most authentic narrator, the House itself.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

 DJ Geribo is a modern day Renaissance woman. A self-described authispreneur - author, artist, and entrepreneur - who has written across multiple genres with an authentic voice and a true talent for story telling. Deep Lake House is her eighth book.

 BBD Publishing
P.O. Box 351
Alton, NH 03809
www.BBDpublishing.com

ISBN 978-0-9883068-8-2 US $15.05
51995

9 780988 306882